All Microsoft 365 apps explained

Teams

Used for classroom management. Easy access to assignments and communication through video calls and messages.

Word

A text input and manipulation program. Used most commonly for essays, projects, letters, etc. Many features for design.

Excel

A spreadsheet program. Working with cells, data manipulation can be done through the use of functions and many other means, used prominently in business.

PowerPoint

A slideshow presentation program. Easily editable slides with modification of all aspects. Commonly used for short, widespread presentations.

Outlook

An email program. Used to send and manage emails. Managing inbox, outbox, and others.

OneNote

A notebook program. Can be used to write, keep and edit notes. Another use can be as assignment management as a notebook can be linked to the cloud.

OneDrive

An online file storage program. Easy online file storage structured very similarly to windows file system. Used for easy file sharing between devices.